Hints & Tips on Exhibiting Vegetables

- It is important that the fruit or vegetable has reached maturity, perhaps more important that it has not passed its peak.
- Most fruit and vegetables are best picked on the same day as delivery. This is particularly important with leaf vegetables.

- Some fruit and vegetables such as onions and pumpkins can be picked when they are at their best and stored if handled properly.
- When choosing which fruit or vegetables to show, remember a good, even colour that is true to the variety and without blemishes is important.
- For classes where more than one of the same variety is required try to choose fruit or vegetables with uniform size, shape and colour.
- Stating the name of the variety of fruit or vegetable you have grown is an advantage for individual characteristics.
